Allard First-Graders Display G-20 Awareness

Students in Karen Lewis' first-grade class at Allard Elementary learned about international cooperation in a unique way leading up to the G-20 Summit this month.

On Sept. 23, students held a special Show and Tell where they shared information about one of the 20 member nations including flags they had decorated and facts about their assigned nation.

The project ties with September's character education trait of respect and illustrates that even large nations across the world strive to work together as should Moon Area elementary students.
