Bon Meade Students Travel Around the World in Books

Bon Meade first-grade teacher Natalie Fratangeli's room represented Italy during Bon Meade Elementary School's annual Read In Night. Visitors heard the tale of "Strega Nona" and her magical pasta pot.

Bon Meade Elementary School held its 19th Annual "Read In Night" on March 4. The event revolved around the theme of "Reading Around The World" as 180 first, second and third-grade students visited nations from across the globe where they heard a story related to each country and completed a craft project drawn from each tale.

Students visited three nations out of nine represented in the event including Greece, Sweden, Germany, China and more. More than 20 Bon Meade teachers helped with the event, which was organized by Bon Meade third-grade teacher Karen Bell.

Gypsy Moon Tellers Robin Rundquist and April Uhrin, Moon Area High School graduates and former Bon Meade Elementary students performed theatrical storytelling for participants.

Each student received a free book and bookmark as well as a world-shaped cookie.
