MAHS Senior Wins Financial Essay Contest

Moon Area High School senior Brenna Longo has been named one of five winners in the inaugural Financial Services Symposium Essay Contest.

Her less than 400 word entry answered the query "How would you convince your best friend that saving and investing from an early age is the best way to ensure opportunity and prosperity?" Brenna will attend the Navigating the Financial Renaissance symposium at the Pittsburgh Marriott City Center, where she will be paired with a business student from a local university and have lunch with a symposium speaker. All winners also received $100.

The contest welcomed entries from high school students and submissions were judged by a panel of industry experts on the writers' grasp of the topic, clear solution and originality. It was sponsored by Junior Achievement of Western Pennsylvania, Inc. in cooperation with Greater Pittsburgh Compliance Roundtable members.
